THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily, at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The year 1914 has been the most extraordinary in the history of modern times. It has witnessed the outbreak of the great European war, a struggle so titanic that it makes all others look small.

You live in momentous times, and you should not miss any of the tremendous events that are occurring. No other newspaper will inform you with the promptness and cheapness of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World. Moreover, a year's subscription to it will take you far into our next Presidential campaign.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD's regular subscription price is only 1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00. Send all subscriptions to Kentuckian office.

Evidence.

NEW IN NAVAL CONSTRUCTION

Three-Gun Turret, Recently Placed on American Ships, is an Innovation of Unknown Quality.

Our new battleships Nevada and Oklahoma with their three-gun turrets may be the forerunners of a radical change in the methods of big-gun distribution on our super-dreadnaughts—unless, indeed, the super-dreadnaught itself is to be driven to the scrap heap by the submarine. The new vessels carry ten 14-inch guns—three each in a bow and stern turret, and two each in two midship turrets raised sufficiently so their guns may be trained over the three-gun turrets. They can thus discharge an "end-side" fire of five 14-inch guns either ahead or astern.

Italy and Austria each has at least one three-gun turret ship, and France is to try a turret carrying four guns. Up to date, however, there seems to have been no really thorough test of either of these arrangements. The chief advantage claimed for this concentration of big guns appears to be the concentration of fire resulting from it. Some naval constructors question the practicability of keeping these new "deck-forts" in good working condition, under the enormous shocks and strains produced by their mammoth broadsides. There is also some criticism of the policy of putting so many eggs in one basket. Two disabled turrets on the Nevada will put six instead of four guns out of commission.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well-known publishing house of the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtaining every issue of this paper for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's," 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 105 short stories, crisp, entertaining, original 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with the right sentiment, and "Walnuts and Wine," the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordinary offer prompt action is necessary. Remit to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Phila., Pa. Advertisement.

Not So Bad in America.
"I read in an American paper that well-heated cellars may be used for providing that luxury in January, rhubarb pie," writes V. V. in the Sphere, "not by storing up the delicacy but by growing the plant. The forcing chumps are to be buried in a box or tub, covered with sand and watered freely. In from one to three months, it is asserted, the rhubarb, nicely blanched, will be ready for the pie. This information fills me with dread. Rhubarb that comes in its natural order is to me so horrible that the thought of forcing it, too, turns me cold."

Whooping Cough.

Well—everyone knows the effect of Pine Forests on Coughs. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is a remedy which brings quick relief for Whooping Cough, loosens the mucous, soothes the lining of the throat and lungs, and makes the coughing spells less severe. A family with growing children should not be without it. Keep it handy for all Coughs and Colds. 25c at your Druggist. Electric Bitters a Spring Tonic.

The Pitiless Tyrant.

Remember that woman is a tyrant, and that only when you are under her little heel, and it is too late to struggle, you will find how pitiless it can be, and how quickly it can crush the life and spirit out of a man.—Sydney Yorke.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed. As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ill it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At drugists. 50c. large box, or by mail, The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

PORTIERE OF CORN KERNELS

Superior to Those of Ordinary Construction is the Invention of a Michigan Man.

A Michigan man has made a portiere of corn kernels which is, he declares, far superior to those made of beads or paper tubes used in making the ordinary Japanese kind. He takes ordinary field corn, says Popular Mechanics, and places the kernels in boiling water, where they soak for 24 hours, preparing only a little at a time, as they may sour. The kernels are then strung on No. 8 cotton thread, double from the needle. Each strand is made a foot longer than the doorway to allow for shrinking. Sound kernels are used and care is taken not to split them with the needle. The corn will shrink in drying and should therefore be examined and the kernels pushed together. A loop at one end of each string, all of the same length, is made and all strung on a pole. They are then ready for varnishing, which is done by dipping them in varnish warmed somewhat. They are then hung up to drain and dry. This must be thoroughly done and not too quickly. When dry they are hung on the pole in the door space. The ends of the threads can be clipped even as the kernels will not come off. They may be dyed any color and designs made of different colors of the corn. But the dyeing does not make as pretty a portiere, the experimenter thinks, as the plain color of the corn. The length of the strings may be made to suit the maker. A good method is to make them short in the center, increasing to full length at the sides.

Not Too Well Rewarded.

The fact that the annual receipts from cinematograph shows in the United States amount to $150,000,000 prompts the recollection that Muybridge, whose experiments in the instantaneous photography of animal locomotion helped to pave the way for moving pictures, received support in the shape of university grants to the tune of $40,000, or not much more than one-fourth of the part of what the moving picture business in the states is bringing in every year. The London, England, photographer who actually invented the moving picture lantern, received nothing for his discovery.

The Hundred-Dollar Look.

One check for $100 given for war relief has a story behind it. The collector in the case was the extremely attractive and favorite niece who had no illusions respecting her uncle's thriftiness. She asked him for a large gift. He chipped in $5. She was disappointed, but put down the item on her list with footnotes. Uncle later got a surreptitious glance at the paper and read:

"T. Tupper Jones, Five Dollars. Every Little Bit Helps."
The $100 check was listed next day.

Electric Cash Drawer.

A newly invented electric cash drawer, which must be securely closed after using it or a bell will ring until this is done, cannot be opened when partially closed until it has been shut, and no one can open it but persons familiar with the combination, which is operated by instantaneous touches on three numbered keys.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Adversity.

A high character might be produced, I suppose, by continued prosperity, but it has very seldom been the case. Adversity, however it may appear to be our foe, is our true friend; and, after a little acquaintance with it, we receive it as a precious thing—the prophecy of a coming joy. It should be no ambition of ours to traverse a path without a thorn or a stone.—Charles H. Spurgeon.

Ham Sacks.

A Good Lap Holder.

"What is your grandmother good for, anyhow?" asked a teasing ten-year-old boy of six-year-old Tom. "She's too old to work and too fat to run about and play with. What is she good for, anyhow?" "Well, she's good to hold me on her lap," was Tom's reply, "and I kin fist belt the stuffing out of anybody that has anything to say agin my grandma."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

TROUBLED BY VIVID DREAMS

Soldiers on Service in the Trenches Are Greatly Affected by Their Terrible Experiences.

Naturally enough the normal dream life of the soldier is profoundly affected by his novel and oftentimes terrible experiences at the front. A British army surgeon in charge of one of the field hospitals has taken the trouble to make inquiries of his patients regarding their dreams. Some of them had developed somnambulism, and were often found wandering about in their sleep with great terror and anxiety depicted on their faces. The explanation usually lay in a dream that they had lost their regiments. In fact, this dread of losing contact with their fellows seemed to be the commonest cause of nightmare.

They dreamed they were wandering through endless trenches as complicated as an artificial maze, or were lost alone in dismal forests. The slightest noise during sleep called up visions of exploding shells or the tramp of armed men, often causing them to cry out in fright. In the face of real danger these dreamers of terror were quite as brave as their fellows. Another common night-terror was the dream of a sudden call to arms to which they were unable to respond because of inability to find some indispensable article of attire or equipment.

Hatch Pullets Early.

If the farmer wishes to benefit by the high prices that eggs are certain to bring next fall and winter, he should begin to get ready for them at once, say the poultry specialists in the United States department of agriculture. The way to have eggs late in the year is to hatch early. It is the early hatches from which the early pullets are derived that are the largest money-makers for the poultry producer. The early hatched cockerels can be marketed in almost any market in America when they attain a weight of three-fourths of a pound to a pound and a half each, which they should reach in about six to ten weeks of age, respectively, at a greater profit than at any other time of their lives. The early hatched pullets, if properly grown, should begin to lay in the fall at the time when eggs are scarce and high in price.

First Lifeboat Station.

One hundred and twenty-nine years ago the Massachusetts Humane society built its first hut on Lowell's Island, near Boston, to succor the stranded mariners along the dangerous and desolate Cape Cod coast. From that little dark red sea, the first house of mercy of the sea to be erected, arose a score of like huts along the coast that had been bleached with the bones of sailors for two centuries. In 1807 the first Lifeboat station was organized at Cohasset and out of that sprung the most efficient life-saving service of all the seven seas.
